

SRP DatePicker Control

The SRP DatePicker Control provides an easy and intuitive interface for selecting dates. The DatePicker displays any number of months simultaneously for quick access, and users can scroll to other months using scroll buttons or by clicking on any month header. Any number of dates can be selected continuously or non-continuously. Developers can give visual cues to their users by setting the font and colors of individual dates. The SRP DatePicker Control makes a great popup or date-by-date navigation tool.
